THE COUNCIL.

The Council, the governing body of the College, consists of twenty-four Members, three* of whom, when no vacancy, either by resignation or death, has occurred during the year, go out in rotation annually in July, but are eligible for re-election by the Fellows of the College. All proceedings of the Court of Examiners, the Midwifery and Dental Boards, and the several Committees are reported to the Council for approval and confirmation. The Meetings of the Council are generally held in each month of the year, except in the month of September, and at such other times as the business of the College may require. During the past Collegiate Year there have been sixteen Meetings.

* If in any year one of the three retiring Members be President of the College, he does not go out of office until the succeeding year.

THE COURT OF EXAMINERS.

The Court of Examiners consists of ten Members elected by the Council from the Fellows of the College. The Court superintends the carrying out generally the regulations of the Council relating to the preliminary and professional education of Students, and conducts the professional examinations of Candidates for the Diplomas of Fellow and Member of the College. During the past Collegiate Year the Court has held five Meetings for the Examinations for the Fellowship, and fifty Meetings for the Primary and Pass Examinations for the Membership. The following is a statement of the number of Candidates who presented themselves for the Fellowship and Membership respectively, with the results of the several Examinations, viz. :—

BOARD OF EXAMINERS IN DENTAL SURGERY.

The Board consists of six Members elected by the Council for five years, viz. :—three Members of the Court of Examiners of the College, and three other persons skilled in Dental Surgery. The Board conducts the Examination of Candidates for the Diploma in Dental Surgery of the College. During the year nine Candidates have been examined, of whom six passed to the satisfaction of the Board, and three were referred to their professional studies for a period of six months.

THE MUSEUM.

The Hunterian Collection, which forms the basis, and still a large proportion, of the contents of the present Museum of the Royal College of Surgeons of England, was originally arranged in a building which its Founder, John Hunter, erected for it in 1784, behind his house in Leicester Square.

John Hunter died October 16th, 1793, aged 64. By his will he directed his Museum to be offered in the first instance to the British Government, on such terms as might be considered reasonable, and in case of refusal, to be sold in one lot, either to some foreign state, or as his executors might think proper.

In the year 1799 Parliament voted the sum of £15,000 for the Museum, and an offer of it being made to the Corporation of Surgeons, it was accepted on the terms proposed by Government*.

In 1806 the sum of £15,000 was voted by Parliament in aid of the erection of an edifice for the display and arrangement of the Hunterian Collection; a second grant of £12,500 was subsequently voted, and upwards of £21,000 having been supplied from the funds of the College, the building was completed in Lincoln's-Inn-Fields, in which the Museum was opened for the inspection of visitors in the year 1813.

* The following are the Terms and Conditions on which the Hunterian Collection, purchased by Parliament, was delivered to the late Corporation of Surgeons; which Corporation having become dissolved, the Members thereof were re-incorporated by Charter, dated the 22nd day of March, 1800, under the Title of The Royal College of Surgeons in London:—

1st. The Collection shall be open Four Hours in the Forenoon of two days every week for Inspection and Consultation of the Fellows of the College of Physicians, the Members of the Company of Surgeons and Persons properly introduced by them; a Catalogue of the Preparations, and a proper Person to explain it, being at those times always in the Room.

2nd. That one Course of Lectures, not less than twenty-four in number, on Comparative Anatomy and other subjects, illustrated by the Preparations, shall be given every year by some Member of the Company.

3rd. That the Preparations shall be kept in a state of Preservation, and the Collection in as perfect a state as possible, at the Expense of the Corporation of Surgeons, subject to the annual Inspection and Superintendence of the Trustees.

4th. That there shall be a Board of Trustees, to consist of sixteen (increased to seventeen by the Lords of the Treasury in 1856) Members, by virtue of their Public Offices, and of fourteen others, to be appointed, in the first instance, by the Lords of the Treasury, and afterwards to be elected, as Vacancies may happen, by a Majority of the remaining Trustees.

5th. That the Museum shall always be open for the Inspection of all or any of the said Trustees, who are to take care that the Corporation of Surgeons perform their Engagements respecting the said Collection. That a day be appointed for the annual Inspection of the Museum, by the Trustees acting collectively as a Board; and that they are also to have quarterly Meetings, for the transacting of any Business relative to the Museum, and for the filling up of such Vacancies as may happen in the number of the Trustees; and that the Corporation of Surgeons shall engage some Person to officiate as Secretary to the Board upon such occasions, and to issue previous Notice to the Members, in which he is to state particularly whether any Vacancies are to be filled up by new Elections.

In consequence of the large number of additions, this building became too small for the adequate display and arrangement of its contents; and more space being at the same time required for the rapidly increasing Library, the greater portion of the present building was erected, wholly at the expense of the College, in 1835, at a cost of about £40,000, and the Hunterian and Collegiate Collections were re-arranged in what are now termed the Western and Middle Museums, which were opened for the inspection of visitors in 1836.

Further enlargement of the building having become necessary by the continued increase of the Collection, the College, in 1847, purchased the extensive premises of Mr. Alderman Copeland, in Portugal Street, for the sum of £16,000, and in 1852 proceeded to the erection of the Eastern Museum, at the expense of £25,000, Parliament granting £15,000 in aid thereof. The re-arrangement of the specimens was completed, and the additional portion of the building opened to visitors in 1855.

The Hunterian Collection was estimated to consist of 13,682 specimens, distributed under the following heads:—

Physiological Department, or Normal Structures.

Physiological preparations in spirit	3745
Osteological preparations	965
Dry do.	617
Zoological do.	1968
Fossils:—
Vertebrate	1215
Invertebrate	2202
Plants	292

Pathological Department, or Abnormal Structures.

Preparations in spirit	1084
Dry preparations (including bones)	625
Calculi and concretions	536
Monsters and malformations	218

Microscopic preparations 215

Of the additions by which the size and value of the Collection have been so materially increased since it came into the possession of the College, very many have been presented by Fellows and Members of the College, and other persons interested in scientific pursuits. Among the largest contributions from this source have been the Collection, consisting of 847 specimens, presented in 1811 by Sir William Blizard, and a valuable series of Pathological specimens presented in 1851 by Sir Stephen L. Hammick. At the same time the Council of the College have availed themselves of various opportunities as they have occurred to purchase specimens of interest, especially at the dispersion of private anatomical and pathological museums, as that of Sir A. Lever in 1806, of Mr. Joshua Brookes in 1828, of Mr. Heaviside in 1829, Mr. Langstaff in 1835, Mr. South in the same year, Mr. Howship and Mr. Taunton in 1841, Mr. Liston in 1842, Mr. Walker in 1843, and, deserving of especial mention on account of the great number and value of the specimens acquired, that of Sir Astley Cooper in 1843.

The Histological Collection, of which the 215 Hunterian specimens (prepared by Hewson) constitute the nucleus, was chiefly formed by the late Professor Quekett, with considerable additions by purchase from Dr. Tweedy J. Todd, Mr. Nasmyth, and Professor Lenhossek. It now contains upwards of 12,000 specimens, all arranged and catalogued so as to be readily available for reference.

The superintendence of the Museum is confided by the Council of the College to a Committee of its Members, which Committee has held ten meetings during the past year.

A summary of the progress made in the preservation, arrangement, and augmentation of the Collection will be found in the following Report:—

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE CONSERVATOR TO THE MUSEUM COMMITTEE.

(Presented July 4th, 1870.)

I. PATHOLOGICAL COLLECTION.

All the specimens belonging to this series referred to in the last Report as in want of remounting (108 in number) have been finished, and the Collection is now in thoroughly good order.

The additions are fully equal in number to the average of former years, and include an important specimen showing the effects of ligature of the common carotid and subclavian arteries, four years before death, in the treatment of intrathoracic aneurism, presented by Mr. C. Heath, which has required an unusual amount of time and care on the part of Mr. Moseley for its proper display.

II. OSTEOLOGICAL COLLECTION.

In the latter part of last year it was intimated, through Dr. Barnard Davis, that the well-known Italian ethnologist, Dr. G. Nicolucci, of Isola di Sora, was about to dispose of his fine collection of ancient and modern Italian and Greek skulls. The President and Council of the Ethnological Society, and several eminent English anatomists, having expressed a favourable opinion as to the value of the collection, and the desirability of its being placed in so accessible a situation as the Museum of the College of Surgeons, the Council, at its meeting in February last, resolved to purchase it at the price asked by Dr. Nicolucci, viz. £120. The collection arrived safely in the latter part of May, and is now arranged in the Museum. It consists of 38 ancient Italian and 114 modern Italian crania, 4 ancient Greek and 10 modern Greek crania, in all 166. The locality from which it was obtained is carefully recorded on each specimen.

The entire collection of human skulls in the Museum, including those illustrating development, amounts at the present time to 795; the great proportion of them being well-authenticated and characteristic examples. Several important additions to the series have been made during the past year by donation, as will be seen by the subjoined list.

In Comparative Osteology numerous and valuable specimens have been added, and the articulator has continued to exercise his skill in preparing them for exhibition in the Museum, and for consultation and reference by students. The skeleton of a Pike, prepared from a fish which weighed 32 lbs., presented by Mr. Petre, of Westwick, Norwich, at the instance of Mr. Frank Buckland, that of a very fine adult specimen of the recently discovered Long-tailed Chinese Deer (Elaphurus davidianus), presented by the Council of the Zoological Society, and one of the very rare and remarkable South-African "Aard Wolf," or Proteles, are among the most important additions to this series.

An interesting and instructive skeleton of a fœtal Southern Right-Whale (Balæna australis), from the Cape of Good Hope, which was purchased in 1838, but has (with the exception of the skull) remained in the stores till now, has been articulated and mounted in the Western Museum, by the side of the full-grown Northern representative of the same genus.

The series of separate bones mounted in the upright cases in the Eastern Museum has received numerous additions during the year.

III. PHYSIOLOGICAL COLLECTION.

The revision of this important series, alluded to in the last Report, was commenced about twelve months ago, and has now proceeded as far as the end of the second of the five volumes of the Catalogue. So far all the specimens have been examined and compared with the descriptions; 75 have been remounted; all the specimens added since the publication of the Catalogue have been, for the first time, entered in their proper places in an interleaved Catalogue; labels indicating the nature of the series have been fixed on the shelves, and the name of the animal from which each specimen is derived has been painted on the bottle, by which process the Collection is made far more useful than when reference has to be made in every instance to the Catalogue.

I hope to proceed uninterruptedly with this work until the remaining portion of the Collection is placed in the same state of efficiency.

Numerous new specimens have been added to the series, chiefly prepared from animals which have died in the Gardens of the Zoological Society.

The series of specimens illustrating human muscular anatomy has also been proceeded with.

IV. TERATOLOGICAL COLLECTION.

The necessity of a revision of the Catalogue of the Collection of Malformations and Monstrosities was alluded to in the last Report. The present Catalogue was published in the year 1831, and the classification upon which the preparations were then arranged was not founded upon any scientific basis.

Since that date so many additions have been made that the Catalogue, such as it is, conveys very little idea of the real extent of the Collection. It appeared probable that a thorough study of the whole of the specimens now contained in the Museum would not only result in placing the Collection, as regards classification and description, on a level with the present state of knowledge of this very difficult and often perplexing subject, but might also do something towards advancing that knowledge. The Committee, therefore, adopted the suggestion I made last year of obtaining the assistance of some one who would make a special study of this department, and who would use the large materials which have been for some time accumulating in our Museum as the basis of a really scientific work on the subject.

The Council of the College in April last, at the recommendation of the Committee, entrusted the work to Mr. B. J. Lowne, M.R.C.S., a gentleman whose capability and perseverance have been proved by his elaborate treatise on "The Anatomy of the Blow Fly."

V. DERMATOLOGICAL COLLECTION.

The past year has been signalized by the institution of what may be termed an entirely new department of the Collection; for such illustrations of diseases of the skin as the Museum formerly contained were very limited in number, and were incorporated in the general Pathological series. Moreover, the great majority of the morbid appearances presented by the skin cannot be shown in an Anatomical Museum by actual specimens, but recourse must be had to models and drawings to perpetuate and illustrate their characters, and no Collection of such objects had hitherto been formed in the College.

When the Professorship of Dermatology was founded and endowed last year by Mr. Erasmus Wilson, it appeared necessary that the means of illustrating the Lectures should also be provided; and for this purpose, as well as for the general advancement of the study of the subject, Mr. Wilson has presented to the College an extensive Collection of drawings, casts, and models of cutaneous diseases, the greater proportion of the latter having been recently executed with great artistic excellence and fidelity by M. Baretta from patients in the Hôpital St. Louis at Paris.

In order to provide space for the exhibition of this Collection, and for any further additions that may be made to it, the Council determined upon the erection of a set of rail-cases around the upper gallery of the Western Museum, on the same plan as those put up in 1863 in the lower gallery. The construction of these cases was entrusted, as on the former occasion, to Mr. Sage, of Gray's Inn Road, and they were completed in October last, at a cost of £280, which will be defrayed out of the proceeds of the Endowment of the Chair of Dermatology, so that the cases as well as the Collection must be looked upon as the gift of Mr. Wilson to the College.

Since the completion of the cases, Mr. Wilson has been engaged in arranging the preparations in systematic order, and in preparing a descriptive Catalogue of the whole Collection, the manuscript of which is now ready for the press.

VI. PREPARATIONS USED AT THE ANATOMICAL EXAMINATIONS.

During the past year much work has been expended upon this Collection, 118 specimens having been remounted and permanently tied down in their bottles or glass capsules. Various additions have also been made to the series.

THE LIBRARY.

The formation of a regular Library may be said to have commenced in the year 1801, at which time and in succeeding years presentations and bequests of books, often in considerable numbers, were made to the College; the principal donors being Dr. Baillie, Sir Everard Home, Sir Charles Blicke, the widow of Mr. Sharp, Sir Ludford Harvey, Dr. Fleming, Mr. Cotton, and Mr. Long. The Court of Assistants also directed from time to time the expenditure of small sums of money for the purchase of books, and eventually voted a sum of £100 per annum for this purpose. Sir Charles Blicke, in the year 1816, invested the sum of £300, the proceeds of which sum were to be devoted to the same object. Some of the purchases thus made were considerable, as in the cases of the Libraries of Mr. Pitt, Mr. St. Andre, and Sir Anthony Carlisle, and books of importance were added at the recommendation of the Conservator of the Museum and others. In this way a Library of considerable value was gradually accumulated, but it was only accessible to a limited number of persons. In 1827 active steps were taken to render it more generally useful, and with this object catalogues and extensive lists of desirable acquisitions were ordered to be prepared. Large sums of money were also expended during this and the ensuing two years, amounting in the aggregate to nearly £6000. A Librarian was appointed, and in 1828 the Library, then containing 10,500 volumes, was thrown open to members of the College, and all other persons engaged in the pursuit of natural science were freely admitted. This large collection, thus opened, offered great facilities to the studious. By means of extensive additions, the collection was well-nigh complete in works on Medicine and Surgery, both domestic and foreign, whilst it was also very rich in publications relating to the accessory sciences. The transactions of Academies and Societies, and the collection of periodical publications in general, owing to their completeness, and the difficulty with which access can be obtained to this class of literature elsewhere than in large libraries, formed a valuable feature. The maintenance of the Library from that time to the present has involved a very considerable expenditure of the funds of the College. It has been the object of those to whose care it has been confided to ensure the completeness and excellence of the collection, and great facilities of reference have been provided by the preparation of additional catalogues and indexes of subjects. During the last year there have been added to the Library 496 volumes, comprising 127 new works, and 306 tracts, pamphlets, reports, and theses. The entire collection now contains 33,062 volumes, 13,592 works, and 35,962 tracts, pamphlets, reports, and theses.

The following is a list of the donations presented to the Library during the year 1869-70, viz. :—
